

STEADY ROCK

Have you ever tried to build a tower with some pebbles that maybe you found on the beach? If the bottom pebble is not as firm as a steady rock, everything will fall apart. The Pope, the Bishops and other people we meet in our lives like; those who take care of us, teachers, catechists and good friends, are like these firm rocks because they help us to build a strong relationship with God and with all created things.

- Take some time to think about these people who led you and many others to get to know God more.
- On some of these pebbles write the names of these people.
- Now you can close your eyes and thank God for these people who have been like rocks in your life.
